

Special Session (SS02):

Regional integration in Africa

Organisateur:

Abdellatif Khattabi: Association Marocaine des Sciences Régionales / Ecole Nationale Forestière d'Ingénieurs, Salé, Maroc. Email: ab_khattabi@yahoo.com

Aim and scope of the session:

The purpose of this special session is to debate regional disparities in Africa from the perspective of sustainable development. The session will encompass the work of economists, geographers, sociologists, urban planners, political scientists, environmentalists, among others. Papers can deal with, but not solely, macroeconomic impacts on regions; characterization of differentiated economic structures; migration and demography; urbanization; urban poverty and rural poverty; regional development policies; decentralization policies; innovation policies and regionalization of higher education; rural development policies; environmental impacts on regions, etc. The common point is the assignment of a territorial dimension to these papers.
